

MidnightTrader Enhances Its Popular Live Briefs Service -- Alerting Investors of Critical Stock News and Trading Information

MidnightTrader, a premier source of real time pre market, regular session and after hours stock news and trading information, announces new enhancements to its popular Live Briefs service providing total coverage of US equities and markets.

Research Triangle Park, NC (PRWeb) October 10, 2008 -- MidnightTrader, a leading source of around the clock, real-time coverage of US equities and markets, announced that it has added even more features and critical investment information to its popular Live Briefs product. "Live Briefs" allow investors to stay informed with up-to-the-minute news and information that may affect their stock holdings -- as well as the economy on whole.

The additional features now available with Live Briefs include:

- Historical insights that help investors use news (historical analyst rating change reactions and earnings reactions)
- Additional ADR coverage
- Dual listed Canadian coverage
- Trading ideas

"We have historically provided real time pre-market, regular session, and after hours stock and market news. Now we have further enhanced our full regular market session news to compliment our unique extended hours stock news service," says Brooks McFeely, CEO of MidnightTrader.

Research has shown that over 90% of all market-moving corporate announcements are made in the after hours trading period. There are approximately 25 million online brokerage accounts that have access to after hours trading but only about 3% of these actually trade in after hours. The biggest reason given is lack of information.

Live Briefs are designed to keep investors informed about any and all market-moving announcements around the clock. With volatility increasing and average of 3 billion shares currently traded daily, real-time news has never been more critical for investors.

Trading ideas that have been profiled recently include:

- Research in Motion (NASDAQ: RIMM)
- Washington Mutual (NYSE: WM)
- Google (NASDAQ: GOOG)
- Apple (NASDAQ: AAPL)
- Jabil Circuit (NASDAQ: JBL)
- GE (NYSE: GE)
- JP Morgan (NYSE: JPM)

Subscribers have access to trading ideas through the company's website at <http://www.midnighttrader.com>.

Simple stock market news and pre market quotes are a great start but may not be enough for traders or their clients. Live Briefs deliver these and much, much more," says McFeely.
